

DOMESTIC ENERGY ASSESSOR

The role of an energy assessor is to visit domestic properties and undertake an energy assessment on the property. This course is bespoke non-accredited continuous professional development (CPD).

The content of this domestic energy assessor training course is designed specifically for learners who are looking for a career as a Domestic Energy Assessor (DEA). The programme will cover content which looks to explore knowledge and understanding around residential home types, walls, floors, heating, ventilation etc. Learners will gain an understanding of how to undertake energy calculations and audits on residential properties in order to generate an Energy Performance Certificate (EPC). Learners will acquire a detailed understanding of the assessment process.

These training modules are provided by REVAMP Training Limited from its dedicated training centre at North Seaton, Ashington, Northumberland. Should a client wish for REVAMP Training Limited to undertake training at its premises, this can be undertaken with prior agreement. All prices available upon request via: info@revamptraining.co.uk or by contacting +44 1642 220778.

Training course content will focus upon:

- Introduction to DEA, energy ratings, etc.
- Housing stock age.
- Houses and people factors.
- Survey, areas and perimeters.
- Rooms in the roof, conservatories, etc.
- Building construction and insulation.
- Flats and maisonettes.
- Heat parts 1 and 2.
- EPCs, preparation, how to Undertake a Survey.